

THB

Give each group a small plant (if available). Read the dialogues using different voices for each person. Let children observe, touch, identify and name the plant part, then discuss its function.